

Amusements.

A SOCIAL DANCE WILL BE HELD IN BECKER'S BALL

WEDNESDAY EVENING, MAY 10, 1864.
To which all respectable persons of both sexes are invited. Seats $1.50 each.
The Ballroom is the Ball will be closed during the evening.

AN EXCURSION

TO NEW YORK CITY! THROUGH IN TWO HOURS!

BULLARD'S PANORAMA OF NEW YORK CITY TAKES THE SPECTATOR FORTY-ONE Miles THROUGH THE Streets of New York City, FAITHFULLY SHOWING THE BUSINESS, BUSTLE & CONFUSION OF CITY LIFE. HE HAS A VIEW OF MORE THAN 700 HORSES AND CARRIAGES, AND UPWARDS OF 10,000 OF ITS PEOPLE, 24 Miles of Shipping & Steamers. Provisions, Military Companies, Bands of Music, Shipping, Steamboats, &c.

At each Exhibition an Explanatory Lecture will be given, giving much valuable knowledge of

NEW YORK AND ITS PEOPLE,
of great importance to a stranger, and of general and instructive information to EVERY BODY.

The following buildings have been placed on the Panorama the last year, at the expense of $5,000.

The Crystal Palace on Fire.

Stewart's Marble Palace.

The Metropolitan Hotel.

The St. Nicholas Hotel.

Taylor's Saloon and the International Hotel.

The interior of Taylor's saloon.

Barnum's American Museum.

Doors open an hour before the Panorama moves.
WILL BE EXHIBITED AT THIS PLACE.

IN

HUSTON HALL,

Every evening this week at eight o'clock, and Thursday, Friday and Saturday at three o'clock.

Admission 25 cents; children 10 cents. Families and parties of five persons, $1.00.

R. B. DAWSON, Agent.

DAVID WEILLYNS, Manager.

Special Notices.

QUACKERY.

HARNETT caution all young men suffering from Nervous Debility, etc., against endangering their health by patronizing any of the advertising quacks. You can fully recover by the methods used by the advertiser, and by hundreds of others, and to my knowledge, not a hundred a day will ever fail you will still seek your services, and you will be disappointed. Direct to W. D. H. TRAVER, Lock Box, Boston, Mass.

SAPONIFIER.

CONCENTRATED LYE
FAMILY SOAP MAKER.
War makes high prices; Saponifier buys to resell them. It makes Soap Four cents a pound.

CAUTION! As saponified Lye is very dangerous, be careful and only buy the Patented article put up in iron cans, all others being counterfeits.

PENNSYLVANIA SALT MANUFACTURING CO.
Philadelphia—No. 197 Walnut street.
Pittsburg—Pitt st. and Duquesne Way.
Johnstown

Wynkoop's Iceland Pectoral.

Reported for the Empire by A. Stephens, City Clerk.

Daily Empire.

City and Other Matters.

NOTES.—No more photographs or any kind of pictures will be taken at City Hall Gallery.

NOTES.—The funeral procession of General Worth, Major Gates and Colonel Duncan, which was five and a half miles long, is seen in Bullard's Panorama, which exhibits at Huston Hall this evening and Thursday, Friday and Saturday at three and eight o'clock.

Wanted to Rent.—A comfortable dwelling with six to eight rooms. The western part of the city, north of Fourth St., preferred. Enquire at this office.

NOTES.—Hon. Augustus Belmont, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, is in the city and can be seen at Bullard's Panorama, which exhibits at Huston Hall this evening and Thursday, Friday and Saturday at three and eight o'clock.

Auction Sale.—C. P. Huber & Son will close out the balance of the Grocery consignment this evening. Great bargains are to had, the goods must be sold. One iron safe, patent counter scales, queenware, tobacco, rope, string, &c. Also, some more of that all wool carpet.

NOTES.—100,000 persons are to be seen on Bollard's Panorama, and the people are represented at their every day business. It exhibits at Huston Hall, this evening and Thursday, Friday and Saturday at three and eight o'clock.

Situation Wanted.—Wanted, a situation as Clerk, Book-keeper, or Salesman.—The applicant has had experience in all. Waives no object. City reference given. Address this office.

Draft.—The First Ward Finance Committee are all urgently requested to meet to-night (Wednesday) at C. H. Winter's law office.

They will tomorrow test the question whether the Old First, the first to act in endeavoring to relieve itself from draft, shall now abandon all hopes to the fate; when by a renewed energetic and unanimous effort on the part of its citizens, and by the aid of the Bounty Bill, the avenue of escape is within reach. But ten or twelve men are lacking on former quotas probably not more than twenty will be our new quota. Shall this renewed effort fail? Every citizen, with any ward pride in his heart, will certainly respond—let all of us without distinction of party be called upon, and we will all give, little or much, toward relieving not only our neighbors, but also in upholding the fame of Free War.

Last Night of the Stereopticon.—As this is the last night of the Stereopticon, and as it is to be devoted exclusively to the exhibition of Statuary, we have no doubt, Beckel Hall, will be filled to its utmost capacity.—The proceeds of the entertainment, we understand are to be handed over to the Oregon Soldiers Aid Society.

Book Bindery.—In Beckel's Building, over the Post Office, every description of Binding is executed in the very best style, and at cheapest rates, such as Blank Books, Magazines, &c. Ruling done to order. Remember the place, Room No. 22, Beckel's Building.

2d local. E. W. MYER.

NOTES.—Those who desire to see a company of old Revolutionary Soldiers, in full costume, can do so by visiting Bullard's Panorama of New York City. Governor's Island, Noxner's and Dodworth's Bands are represented on Bullard's Panorama, which exhibits at Huston Hall this evening and Thursday, Friday and Saturday at three and eight o'clock.

Lost.—On last Monday evening, a note of $900, dated March 1st, 1864, payable thirty days after date, signed W. S. Phelps payable to S. Powers or order. Any person finding it will be suitably rewarded by leaving it at Estesook & Phelps' Grocery, Second street, and Saturday at three and eight o'clock.

NOTES.—Old Fellows will be interested to know that the great O. F. Procession at the time of the dedication of their new Hall in New York, which was three and a half miles long, is to be seen on Bullard's Panorama of New York. Go and take your cousin, or somebody else's cousin, to see it. It exhibits at Huston Hall this evening, and, after to-day, every afternoon and evening this week at three and eight o'clock.

City Council.—Reported for the Empire by A. Stephens, City Clerk.

TUESDAY, March 22, 1864.

Present.—Messrs. A. Decker, Dickey, Eddings, Bonn, Rogers, Kiersted, Gilliland, Minck, Lehman, Thomas, J. Decker and Love. Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The Engineer presented the estimates for grading, graveling, curving and guttering, Sycamore and Maple streets, which were received and ordered on file.

By Mr. Decker.—Resolved, That the City Clerk is hereby directed to pay to the Pacific Fire Company the amount due said Company on contract ending March 1, 1864.

By Mr. Minck.—Resolved, That the Neptune, Independent, Miami, Deluge, and Oregon Fire Companies, and the Hook and Ladder Company, make out their accounts and hand them in to Council for adjustment at the next meeting of Council. Adopted.

By Mr. A. Decker.—Resolved, That the City Civil Engineers and he is hereby directed to furnish the City Council at its next meeting with plans and estimates of cost for setting the curb stones, grading and paving the gutters, and grading and graveling the sidewalks on the south side of First street between Meigs and Kenyon streets; also, for First street from Kenyon street east to the canal. Adopted.

By Mr. H. Hilliard.—Resolved, That the Trustees of the Fourth Ward be and are hereby authorized to put the improvement of Main street under contract in accordance with the ordinances on that subject, and an estimate be placed on file in the office of the City Clerk. Adopted.

By Mr. L. Johnson.—Resolved, That the subject of obtaining right of way for water course through Messrs. Stout, Mills & Co.'s lands be referred to a special committee consisting of Messrs. Eddings, Lehman and Dickey to report at the next meeting of Council. Adopted.

By Mr. Love.—Resolved, That the Gas Committee be requested to report on the subject of gas on First street at next meeting of Council. Adopted.

The following bills were allowed: Alexander Gebhart, $20.65; A. Shinn, $20.30; G. Schwinn & Co., $10.54; Jacob Stephan, $1. J. B. Murphy, $6.60.

Council adjourned.

A. M. CLURE.

REAL ESTATE AGENT.
NO. 70 MAIN ST., OVER J. F. RIGGERS'S OFFICE.

Desirable Residence for Sale.

I OFFER for sale the residence of Mr. Jackson, on Jefferson street, three doors west of Fifth. The lot is one hundred and four thousand square feet. On the premises there is a large two-story house, containing fourteen rooms. Two garrets are available. Also, a double transom. This is one of the most desirable pieces of property in Dayton, and will be sold cheap, if an early application is made to JAMES F. DONALDSON, Real Estate Agent, No. 70 Main street, second story.

A. M. CLURE.

REAL ESTATE AGENT.

NO. 99 THIRD STREET, AT JOHN H. STOPPELMAN'S OFFICE.

I HAVE a large amount of property for sale, as houses and lots, in all parts of the city, at various prices, ranging from four thousand to ten thousand dollars on good payments, and well situated, and will sell at a low price. I have a number of farms for sale, ranging from one hundred and sixty acres down to two acre lots, adjoining the city and the country.

Those having property for sale, and those wanting to sell, well to call on me, as I will give reasonable prices to all business men.

I have had considerable experience in this business.

A. M. CLURE.

Monosyllabic Miscegenation appears, from a statement recently made in the Journal that "Jones" with his new money, was met day before coming out of the First National "South."

This circumstance, of itself, is cited to be called remarkable, and would never have found its way into the organization organ, had it not been for the remarkable conversation, in which this meeting gave rise. Said Smith, "how are you, Jones?" To which Jones reply replied, "Pneumonia," thus perpetrating a "pun" (new money) which it is said "shocked" Mr. Smith.

This circumstances, of itself, is cited to be called remarkable, and would never have found its way into the organization organ, had it not been for the remarkable conversation, in which this meeting gave rise. Said Smith, "how are you, Jones?" To which Jones reply replied, "Pneumonia," thus perpetrating a "pun" (new money) which it is said "shocked" Mr. Smith.

That Mr. Jones will also be shocked, we have not the least doubt, when he shall come to learn that his reply to Smith, was not only singularly witty, but also most "fearfully and wonderfully" "monosyllabic."

The same number of the Journal, informs its readers that "miscegenation means to mix things." According to this definition a "monosyllabic reply" consisting of three syllables, may with propriety be noted under the head of miscegenation. For the sake of a little variety, now, let us suppose that Jones instead of saying pneumonia, (new money) had substituted, monomania, (money-mania) by way of illustrating the evil times, what sort of a "pun" would that have been? "monosyllabic," eh?—and if so would it have "shocked" Mr. Smith? Tell us truly, we implore.

The same number of the Journal, informs its readers that "miscegenation means to mix things." According to this definition a "monosyllabic reply" consisting of three syllables, may with propriety be noted under the head of miscegenation. For the sake of a little variety, now, let us suppose that Jones instead of saying pneumonia, (new money) had substituted, monomania, (money-mania) by way of illustrating the evil times, what sort of a "pun" would that have been? "monosyllabic," eh?—and if so would it have "shocked" Mr. Smith?

The same number of the Journal, informs its readers that "miscegenation means to mix things." According to this definition a "monosyllabic reply" consisting of three syllables, may with propriety be noted under the head of miscegenation. For the sake of a little variety, now, let us suppose that Jones instead of saying pneumonia, (new money) had substituted, monomania, (money-mania) by way of illustrating the evil times, what sort of a "pun" would that have been? "monosyllabic," eh?—and if so would it have "shocked" Mr. Smith?

The same number of the Journal, informs its readers that "miscegenation means to mix things." According to this definition a "monosyllabic reply" consisting of three syllables, may with propriety be noted under the head of miscegenation. For the sake of a little variety, now, let us suppose that Jones instead of saying pneumonia, (new money) had substituted, monomania, (money-mania) by way of illustrating the evil times, what sort of a "pun" would that have been? "monosyllabic," eh?—and if so would it have "shocked" Mr. Smith?

The same number of the Journal, informs its readers that "miscegenation means to mix things." According to this definition a "monosyllabic reply" consisting of three syllables, may with propriety be noted under the head of miscegenation. For the sake of a little variety, now, let us suppose that Jones instead of saying pneumonia, (new money) had substituted, monomania, (money-mania) by way of illustrating the evil times, what sort of a "pun" would that have been? "monosyllabic," eh?—and if so would it have "shocked" Mr. Smith?

The same number of the Journal, informs its readers that "miscegenation means to mix things." According to this definition a "monosyllabic reply" consisting of three syllables, may with propriety be noted under the head of miscegenation. For the sake of a little variety, now, let us suppose that Jones instead of saying pneumonia, (new money) had substituted, monomania, (money-mania) by way of illustrating the evil times, what sort of a "pun" would that have been? "monosyllabic," eh?—and if so would it have "shocked" Mr. Smith?

The same number of the Journal, informs its readers that "miscegenation means to mix things." According to this definition a "monosyllabic reply" consisting of three syllables, may with propriety be noted under the head of miscegenation. For the sake of a little variety, now, let us suppose that Jones instead of saying pneumonia, (new money) had substituted, monomania, (money-mania) by way of illustrating the evil times, what sort of a "pun" would that have been? "monosyllabic," eh?—and if so would it have "shocked" Mr. Smith?

The same number of the Journal, informs its readers that "miscegenation means to mix things." According to this definition a "monosyllabic reply" consisting of three syllables, may with propriety be noted under the head of miscegenation. For the sake of a little variety, now, let us suppose that Jones instead of saying pneumonia, (new money) had substituted, monomania, (money-mania) by way of illustrating the evil times, what sort of a "pun" would that have been? "monosyllabic," eh?—and if so would it have "shocked" Mr. Smith?

The same number of the Journal, informs its readers that "miscegenation means to mix things." According to this definition a "monosyllabic reply" consisting of three syllables, may with propriety be noted under the head of miscegenation. For the sake of a little variety, now, let us suppose that Jones instead of saying pneumonia, (new money) had substituted, monomania, (money-mania) by way of illustrating the evil times, what sort of a "pun" would that have been? "monosyllabic," eh?—and if so would it have "shocked" Mr. Smith?

The same number of the Journal, informs its readers that "miscegenation means to mix things." According to this definition a "monosyllabic reply" consisting of three syllables, may with propriety be noted under the head of miscegenation. For the sake of a little variety, now, let us suppose that Jones instead of saying pneumonia, (new money) had substituted, monomania, (money-mania) by way of illustrating the evil times, what sort of a "pun" would that have been? "monosyllabic," eh?—and if so would it have "shocked" Mr. Smith?

The same number of the Journal, informs its readers that "miscegenation means to mix things." According to this definition a "monosyllabic reply" consisting of three syllables, may with propriety be noted under the head of miscegenation. For the sake of a little variety, now, let us suppose that Jones instead of saying pneumonia, (new money) had substituted, monomania, (money-mania) by way of illustrating the evil times, what sort of a "pun" would that have been? "monosyllabic," eh?—and if so would it have "shocked" Mr. Smith?

The same number of the Journal, informs its readers that "miscegenation means to mix things." According to this definition a "monosyllabic reply" consisting of three syllables, may with propriety be noted under the head of miscegenation. For the sake of a little variety, now, let us suppose that Jones instead of saying pneumonia, (new money) had substituted, monomania, (money-mania) by way of illustrating the evil times, what sort of a "pun" would that have been? "monosyllabic," eh?—and if so would it have "shocked" Mr. Smith?

The same number of the Journal, informs its readers that "miscegenation means to mix things." According to this definition a "monosyllabic reply" consisting of three syllables, may with propriety be noted under the head of miscegenation. For the sake of a little variety, now, let us suppose that Jones instead of saying pneumonia, (new money) had substituted, monomania, (money-mania) by way of illustrating the evil times, what sort of a "pun" would that have been? "monosyllabic," eh?—and if so would it have "shocked" Mr. Smith?

The same number of the Journal, informs its readers that "miscegenation means to mix things." According to this definition a "monosyllabic reply" consisting of three syllables, may with propriety be noted under the head of miscegenation. For the sake of a little variety, now, let us suppose that Jones instead of saying pneumonia, (new money) had substituted, monomania, (money-mania) by way of illustrating the evil times, what sort of a "pun" would that have been? "monosyllabic," eh?—and if so would it have "shocked" Mr. Smith?

The same number of the Journal, informs its readers that "miscegenation means to mix things." According to this definition a "monosyllabic reply" consisting of three syllables, may with propriety be noted under the head of miscegenation. For the sake of a little variety, now, let us suppose that Jones instead of saying pneumonia, (new money) had substituted, monomania, (money-mania) by way of illustrating the evil times, what sort of a "pun" would that have been? "monosyllabic," eh?—and if so would it have "shocked" Mr. Smith?